FOREWORD

Happy school days and pleasant friendships will never be forgotten if the purpose of this book has been fulfilled. Through the write-ups, pictures, art work and other features we feel our aim has been accomplished.

In the last year spent together we have realized more fully the pleasure derived from friendly contacts and study. It is, therefore, with regret we leave the halls of the Hicksville High School.

DEDICATION

TO OUR PARENTS

Because we appreciate the sacrifices you have so unselfishly made for us and the never-ceasing efforts to fulfill all our requests.

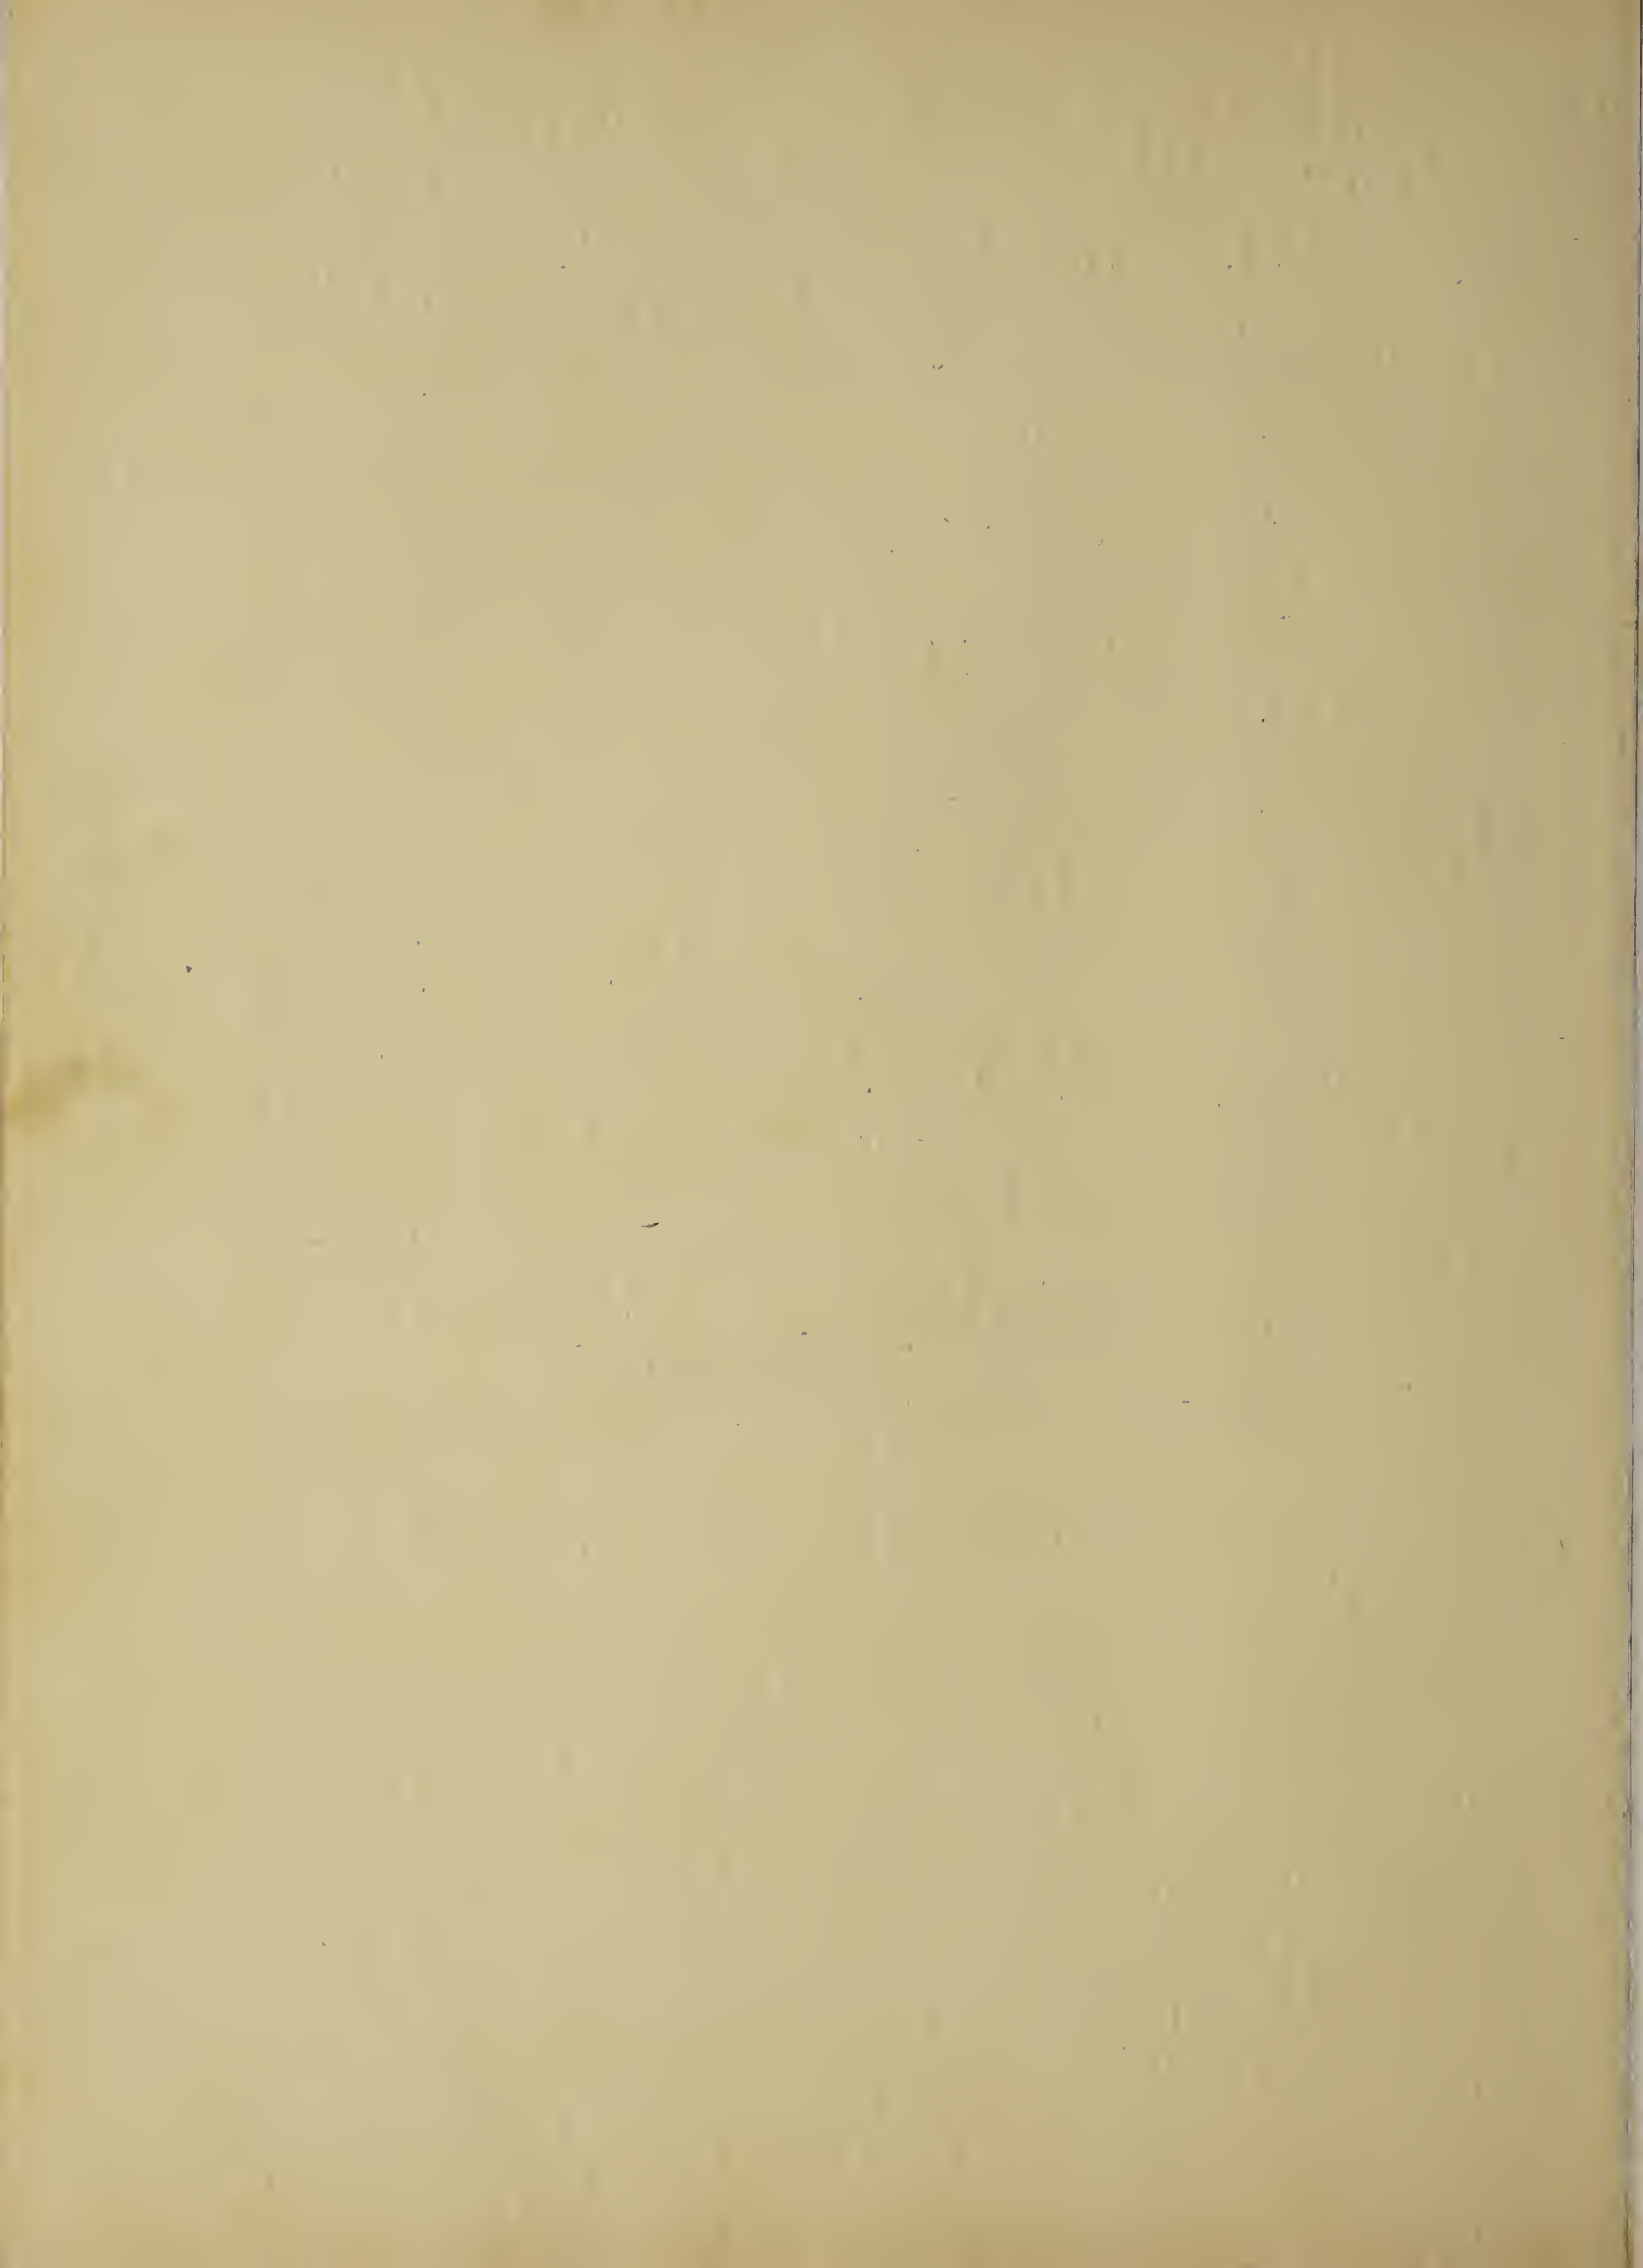

Every student rejoices in dedicating this book to you — the martyrs of our education.

THE STORY OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

MOTTO: To The Stars Through Difficulties

An unexcelled record is about to be established by the faculty of Hicksville High, for the teachers have miraculously brought about that often despaired of feat — the graduation of the class of '35. A green pallor settled over the study hall on a sunny morning in the fall of 1931 as sixty-eight wide-eyed, open-mouthed Freshmen drifted silently in to gaze with awe at the forbidding faces of their superiors. A little lifeless they were that first year and there was much doubtful head shaking as the year wore on. Little did people then guess what lay beneath our incomprehensible exteriors.

In the fall of 1932, after a summer of rest and careful grooming, we returned to school with but one motive—to make people take notice of our abilities. Our scholastic standing began to rise and in all extra-curricular activities the Sophomores were holding their own. Our parties lacked nothing in fun, to which the faculty largely contributed.

The face of 1933 saw the new Juniors invested with a new security and self-confidence. Interest was centered on the Spoonrift, our school paper. The joyous activities of the year were shadowed by the death of one of our members, Janet Nell. However, we rallied bravely and concentrated on our Junior-Senior banquet at which the Seniors were royally entertained. Hamilton Lake also saw an exuberant group of students when we had our Junior skating party there.

Our Senior year brought us closer together and we began to realize the necessity of working together. Our number was forty-seven and Senior class problems were many but the faculty showed itself well able to cope with them. The Hixonian was the center of interest this year. Many happy activities climaxed our four years of struggling to find ourselves in a new world.

JUNIORS' PROGRESS FOR ANOTHER YEAR

'MID WORK AND PLAY — ANOTHER PAGE IS TURNED

FLOWER—Sweet Pea

COLORS—Silver and Green

MOTTO—Climb though the rocks be rugged.

In 1932 seventy-three hopeful but somewhat bewildered students entered the doors of Hicksville High School. Soon in their confusion they sought the leadership of class officers. William Finzer was elected President, Paul Kerr became Vice-President and Barbara Brown assumed the duties of Secretary-Treasurer. The need for a class motto, flowers and colors became evident. They took as their motto: "Climb though the roads be rugged." The sweet pea was selected as the class flower while the colors chosen were silver and green. Thus with the confusion clearing their first year faded.

1933 found sixty-seven of this progressive group returning. They elected Dallas Winn, President; Geraldine Stuckman, Secretary-Treasurer; and George Wilderson, Vice-President. This year saw more parties and this class started its march to recognition. It sponsored a carnival—the first in several years. They got their first taste of journalism when they published one issue of the Spoon drift. The class contributed a large number of active extra-curricular workers. Having completed the early years of uncertainty, another year's progress ended.

In 1934 the present Junior class started the anti-climax of their short careers. Their interest centered around the publication of the Spoon drift whose staff was organized early in the year. The Junior-Senior banquet was the object of great enthusiasm. It was held on April 3 and was a remarkable success. The officers who led this year's Junior Class were Geraldine Stuckman, President; William Finzer, Vice President; and Evelyn Monroe, Secretary-Treasurer. Their class advisors were Mrs. Kerr and Mr. Conkey. Thus turned an important page in the history of the class of '36.

PARTIES AND SPORTS — FEATURE THE YEAR

FLOWER—Tea rose

COLORS—Blue and Gold

MOTTO—It matters not how long we live
—but how.

Like many a beginning class, when they first entered this higher organization of school activities, they were wonder stricken. Everything was new, teachers, books and the way in which school was conducted—all differed from their lower classes. With many blunders and mishaps they were given a word of encouragement, a push forward and with a few exceptions were well established Sophomores at the end of the term.

Amusement and athletics were mingled with their troublesome task of learning to make the year more pleasant. Some Freshmen showed their talents—especially in having good parties and entered with considerable interest the field of athletics. They are certain to bring some remarkable work to the front before the end of their four years in the hall of learning.

When the second year dawned for this class they were showing more interest in all activities. The carnival was the main event and some of the boys were leading soloists in the Roof Garden Revue. What may come of this we're not certain but the prospects are good.

The leadership of the class was given the second year to Jean Miller, president, Carol Schull, vice-president and Dick Rhodes, secretary-treasurer, who carried them successfully through. The sponsors were Miss Howenstine and Mr. Ferguson and they helped with an enjoyable weiner roast and party held on the school ground.

Their publication of one issue of the Spoonrift was representative of their outstanding ability, and Eloise Countryman, who was elected editor-in-chief, found the difficulty they will encounter next year.

In spite of all troubles they have reached the half way mark and are looking forward to two more years of happy hours to reach the final goal of graduation.

Another term of advancement has been completed, at least we hope it has been advancement. The nine months rolled swiftly along for some, slower for others, and it was not easy for many.

As you perhaps know, nine months ago we fifty-some boys and girls started out on a treasure hunt, the treasure being a completed high school career. A few of us may never find this treasure, for some will drop out along the way, thinking the hunt uninteresting. Some may wander around and become lost and end up at the treasure a year late. But the majority of us will stay with the main group and after a while we will be sure to find the treasure. "For eight long years we have waited; we cannot stop now."

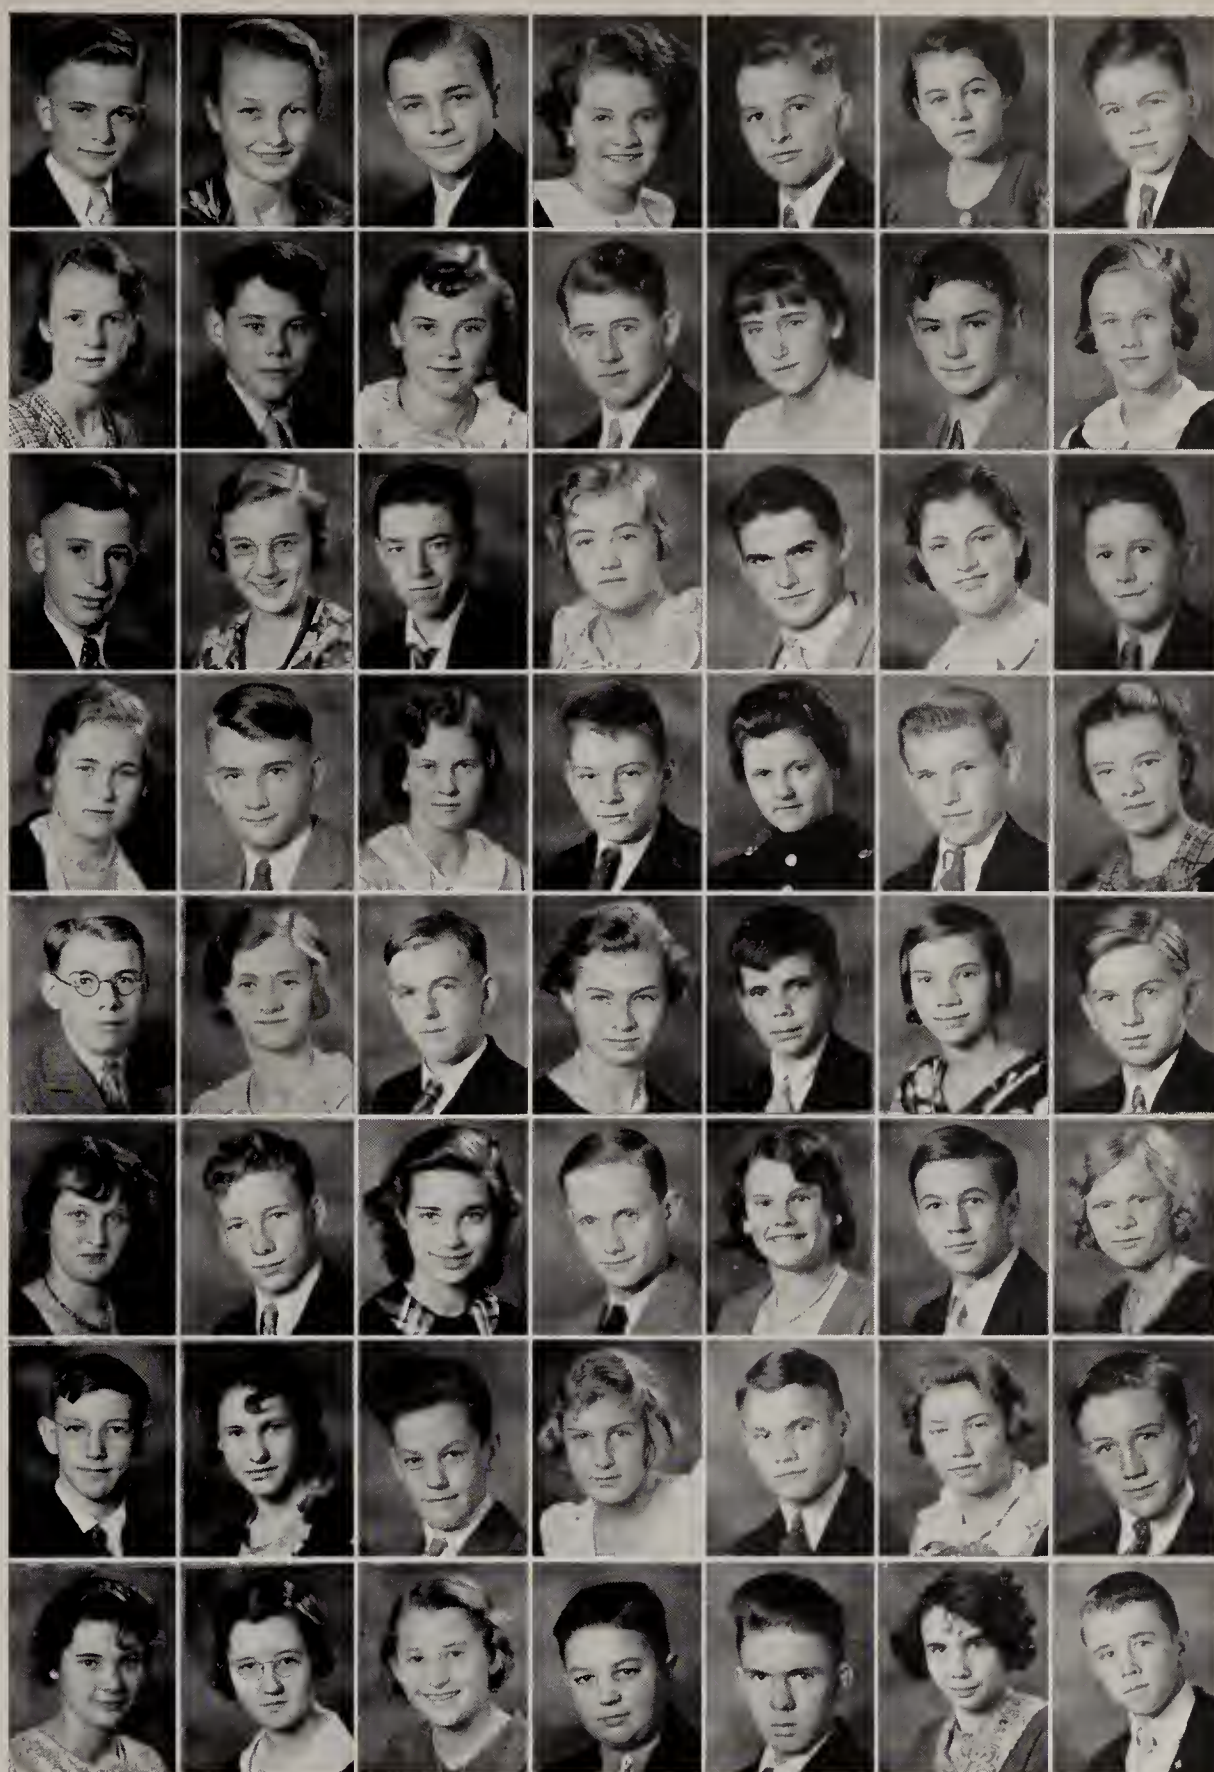

For a few days after starting out we were bewildered by the looks of the upper classmen, but it was not long before we became friendly with them. At the end of six weeks our hopes were rewarded. We found a trace of the lost treasure map on our report cards. Several times we have been encouraged by these same report cards.

Just about the time that the snow was beginning to fall, we stopped at a small town and took provisions for the winter. We also had a party and it was so enjoyable that we decided to have another later on. After a short vacation at Christmas, we again took up the trail of the map which was getting "pretty warm". All the time we have been getting closer and now we have found it, the long sought maps on our report cards.

There remains now three years to get the treasure which is in reality only the "bottom of the ladder!"

JUNIOR HIGH WORKS AND PLAYS

Again Junior High increased in number and also in ambitions and talents.

The basketball team, coached by Mr. Hanna, drew much attention as did also the plays presented, which were directed by Miss Hart.

In addition chapels were conducted throughout the year which gained recognition for the students and the school.

The final reward at the end of the year was the introduction of commencement exercises for the eighth grade.

The roll of the class is as follows:

EIGHTH GRADE:

CARNIVAL QUEEN

Ballots were distributed and the school was to select their queen for the Carnival. Looks, popularity, and congeniality entered into the qualification. Who could we expect to win but the High School "smoothie", Betty Betts. Dressed in satin, she graciously led the grand march and was crowned at the opening of the Carnival by Mayor Lawrence Hart.

Her Attendants were also selected by popular vote. They were: Valona Amaden, most studious; Bette Ganger, most athletic; Merrice Hoppe, most polite; Vivian McKinley, most popular; Marian Smith, best dressed; Vivian Cromley, most democratic.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

SEPTEMBER

- 4 Hicksville High doors were flung open to welcome us back again to the fold and routine of school life.
- 7 Miss Johns entertained "fem" faculty at Hamilton Lake. Did you say it was a swimming party?
- 26 Our superintendent's mother, Mrs. Patterson, served tea and had an enjoyable social hour for the lady teachers.
- 27 Principal Conkey displayed his dramatic powers in one of the leading roles of the Grange Play "Blue Moon."
- 28 Red and white the victors over Montpelier by a score of 26—13. Rah! Rah!

OCTOBER

- 1 Hixonian Staff began to organize and make plans. Danies H. resigned his position as editor-in-chief and Henry Schofer was chosen for the position.
- 2 Board of Education royally entertained by the faculty.
- 3 Sophomores held first Class Party of the year. All reported the eats especially good.
- 4 Homecoming game coming up and a next day pep session was held at the school house in preparation.

Big bonfire to furnish all necessary heat to warm the "rooters" and roast the "hotdawgs" served to all students.

- 5 Homecoming banners fly from the goal posts. Hicksville won from Antwerp 22—0. Football mothers sponsored a supper for everyone after the game in the Community Building. The eats were fine!
- 17 Juniors found a supper class party very enjoyable and even a Treasure hunt.
- 26-27 Long anticipated vacation. Teachers went to Institute at Toledo so we all took a rest.
- 29 Miss Johns' organized a party of students to see Fritz Leiber Macbeth at the Shrine.
- 30 Queen Betts with her six attendants reigns at Carnival! Freaks, boxing matches, hall of terror and fortune tellers help to reap a welcome profit.

NOVEMBER

- 9 The new gymnasium was presented with some funds for equipment by a supper given in its behalf.
- 15 Many chorus girls spring from the ranks of H. H. S. to participate in Legion Play.
- 16 As the season opened—so it closed. Napoleon came and went home with a score of 25—7 in their favor. Did the Senior girls find it a bit chilly that day for the stand?
- 20 Chapels have been lead by various ministers so far this year and all were very instructive. Mr. Patterson gave a "keep up the spirit" talk this morning.
- 24 Jess Ferguson displayed his mighty basketball team for first time. H. H. S. upsets Farmer 38—13.
- 26 Football banquet ends the season and we are losing a valuable man Arrants. Letters and varsity squad medals awarded and the special gold football to "Perry" Arrants.
- 28 Special Thanksgiving Chapel lead by Freshman Class. Vacation began!
- 28 We show Sherwood what's how by defeating them 27—15.

DECEMBER

- 4 Rev. Hollar gives us his outline for "success."
- 5 Senior Class Party—not content with mere supper but demand a real banquet.
- 7 For first time in many years Bryan is twice victim of H. H. S. Our powerful five down them 19—9.
- 10 Red pins are blossoming forth on every student. Mrs. Fred Ferris drive for Red Cross brought instant results.
- 11 Miss Schofer gave the History of the Bible for Chapel.
- 13 Juniors gave an outstanding and impressive entertainment—presenting Dicken's Christmas Carol. Paul K. was "Scroggy" enough to make us all have shivers. Candle recessional and carols by whole class ended the evening.
- 15 The Basketball team still marches on! Defeated Farmer 49—19.
- 21 Sophomore pageant for Christmas Chapel. Costumes a lot large for the actors—Jo Ferris seemed to have lost her hands in the length of the sleeves. Started Christmas vacation in a good spirit by winning from Ney 34—14. All ran home to hang up their stockings and wait for Santa—or did they?

JANUARY

- 7 Students resume studies after a conglomeration of parties, feasts, and sleigh rides.
- 11 Enthusiasts fill the gym at Mark and we come out with a close victory of 23—21.

- 12 Sophomores need a bit of money for the treasury so they have a stand at the Waterloo game. Conquer Waterloo 12—11.
- 15 "You ask me now. I'll ask you tomorrow," is final threat of H. H. S. teachers before exams."
- 17 Advanced Algebra Class labors about five hours on their exams. Not so long but oh such problems!
- 18 H. H. S. tastes of defeat for the first time in basket ball season. Howe Military Academy subdued the cagers 18—33. Fellows wear the new green suits for first time. fflffl ffl
- 22 The "wearing of the green" must have had an effect for we lost a second game this time to Mark 15—19. Hard fought battle and the gate receipts were $196.87.
- 23 A fateful day—grade cards with first semester averages.
- 26 H. H. S. rallied in the last few minutes of play to defeat Bryan 28—20, but fouls were a bit too numerous.
- 28 Presto chango—alleyoop! Seniors sponsor a magician show. Front seats seemed well occupied and not altogether by the kiddies.
- 30 Farmers' Institute in gym. All students were permitted to listen in their vacant periods. Two speakers gave interesting chapel talks and Mrs. Alexander's jokes had us all a giggling!

FEBRUARY

- 1 President's Birthday Ball in the gym.
- 2 Spirit lagged and we barely edged out Montpelier by 22—19.
- 9 Coach Ferguson gave a rousing pep talk and it really worked. We whipped Jewell 50—13.
- 12 Drew for tournament. Ney is our first opponent and then perhaps we'll meet Mark Center.
- 15 How we took the Howe cagers there! Surprise victory of 26—21.
- 23 Washington Birthday pancake supper for Senior benefit. Cleared $18.

MARCH

- 1 Played Ney first game of tournament. Coach ill so fellows carried on the spirit and came through ready to play Mark tomorrow.
- 2 Gym packed. Clean playing and a nerve racking battle. The last second of play Mark nosed H. H. S. out 38—37. Awards give to Winn, Arrants and Connolley for 1st county team. Laub and Daniels made 2nd team.
- 7 Rev. Carter addressed the chapel and songs were led by Mr. Bartholomeu.

- 13 Bowling Green College students appeared before chapel in several musical numbers.
- 15 Another Senior Benefit! Ozark Rambler and Mary Lou.
- 17 The whole school showed marked enthusiasm over the show, Roberta.
- 22 Several students excused from class to see Shakespearean plays in Fort Wayne. Senior Day at Defiance College. Was it Gabriel or the eats that attracted more students.
- 23 Schofer places 1st in Defiance County Senior Scholastic Test.

APRIL

- 3 Junior-Senior banquet with a South Sea Island setting. Uncomfortable clothes, attempts at dignity and glamour,—but wasn't it grand?
- 5 Senior Class presents "And Let Who Will Be Clever." Huge success under Miss Hart's direction.
- 7 Classes go to educational movies in Room 7.
- 8 Students follow superintendent's advice and find the movie, David Copperfield, excellent!
- 9 Patterson gets prolific and lectures to his English class on marriage—A man of experience should know! Seniors decide to have a Senior breakfast the 15th of May.
- 12 Basketball banquet. Initiated new steam heater installed in gym by two School Board members. First part of dummy went to press.
- 26-27 Mrs. Keller's Roof Garden Revue! Better than ever before and what costuming! Old grads back for Review of Revues.

MAY

- 1 Freshman class have a May Day party. Rainy weather wouldn't permit a May Dance so they played indoors.
- 3 Senior invitations go on sale! Last Spoonrift of the year published! Did the teachers see the notice on the assembly board concerning late fees?
- 6 Splendid fair exhibit in the gym.
- 15 Senior Breakfast. Decorations symbolical of May Day.
- 17 Last Chapel conducted by Seniors.
- 19 Baccalaureate services in Christian Church, conducted by Rev. Monroe.
- 21 Senior Class night in the community building.
- 22 Senior Picnic at Hamilton Lake. The meaning of Senior seemed a bit broad, but everyone had "heaps of fun!"
- 23 Commencement exercises. Seniors have their judgment passed upon them.
- 24 Alumni Banquet. Grade cards and a happy dismissal of school.

LEE McCARTNEY

Back to the days of the cradle—but not with a song. A new and interesting feature of the Hixonian staff was announced in an assembly program and promised unusual mirth.

After considerable publicity there was created a craving interest. Dangerous rivalries grew up as entries flocked to the library to register. The entire project was kept in deepest secrecy so that the judges might be impartial in their decisions.

The judges were well chosen and capable. They were Mrs. H. S. Armstrong, Mrs. Harry Belknap and Mr. Robert Hixcox. It was felt that their decision was one of the best because of their knowledge along this line and impartiality in judging.

After due consultation the judges made their decision. The contest was divided into five divisions. The faculty and four high school classes were entered into a close contest. The judges were unanimous on only one decision—that was the Sophomore blue ribbon baby — Jo Ferris. They could have picked none other for her smile was too enticing. The faculty—do you recognize him? Our principal, Mr. Conkey, in a backward position. But Miss Johns was a close rival for she was such a sweet little girl. When the judges came together for the final decision they picked Lee McCartney for the Senior winner, but there were two others in the race. They were Arline Hook and Marian Smith.

MARTHA TUTTLE

LAVON TOWNSEND

LEIGHTON CONKEY

JOSEPHINE FERRIS

The Junior and Freshmen registered a great number of pictures of their childhood days, but of course, there could be only two winners. Kate Elder was defeated 2-1 by LaVon Townsend in the Junior class, and it must have been because he was such a chubby baby and had that determined look. Townsend took the blue ribbon but Kate deserved honorable mention. The Freshman winner was Martha Tuttle and her closest contestant was Mary Schliesser, the newcomer of H. H. S.

WHAT THE SENIORS THINK

This questionnaire has been given to 45 seniors to ascertain their opinion on various subjects. The results were carefully compiled and it may prove to many parents that their children are not altogether frivolous as they are thought to be.

We students are often thought to be "too modern" and for our own interest and yours too, we find that we can think seriously on many questions and the Seniors arrived at the conclusion that we will have another world war by the vote of 28 to 11, and that we do not consider the NRA successful by 23 to 12. Only 2 out of 40 Seniors do not enjoy occasional evenings at home. David Copperfield was regarded the best movie of the year by both boys and girls.

Contrary to the general opinion Seniors do not have dates during the week and the vote was almost unanimous from both sexes against brilliant nail polish. The majority of students enjoy the works of the older school of literature, choosing Shakespeare, and the like, in place of the modern authors.

In some of the questions only the majority could be given although there were other answers.

AFTER THE GAME

By MERRICE HOPPE

Hurray! Hurray! Hicksville wins twelve to eleven over Farmer and am I glad! One hamburger? Five cents, please. There you are (giggle-giggle). Don't you bet Farmer's just burning up? Onio? Okay. (Another giggle). Yeah, that punt of Arrants' was plenty keen. Gum? Tea-berry and Juicy Fruit are all we have. Thank you. Hey! Someone watch those hot dogs. Where did those kids go? Don't get in a hurry. I'm coming (pant-pant). Mustard on your wiener? There you are. What did you think of Schofer's playing? Not so good? (Spasmodic giggle). Oh, I get you—from Farmer! Well, you musn't be blue, it was bound to happen.

There! Everyone's gone and we have to clean up this mess. How much do you think we made? Not bad. Oh, my back! I'm about dead (puff-puff). Look at that coffee. What shall we do with it? Better dump it out there. I guess. Oh-h-h-h! There goes Webster with his car! Stop him! Stop him! For Pete's sake! Now, he's gone and we have this stuff to carry up to the school house. Dishes, pans, baskets and a table. Well girls, we're in for it. And me with a date (thrill-thrill) for Casa Loma tonight. Wow! I bet it's two miles up to that school house.

Here I'll take these pans and a couple of you can buckle on to that table. Hinsch, I guess it's you for those dishes. Omph! Hey! Help! Bang! Rattle! Clash! Well, there they are, girls, the prettiest little pile of pans you ever did see. Boy! Will I get it for this! Will one of you take up a collection for some flowers? I'll need a little class support at my funeral. I'm as good as dead right now. (sigh-sigh). I can see Miss Howenstine's face already when her eyes light on that delicately curved dish pan and oh! what a gorgeous design that chipped place makes in that kettle! Nothing like a few modernistic pans to brighten up that dull routine of kitchen life, eh girls! Ugh! What a load (tug-tug). Let's rest! Maybe some kind soul with a truck will come along (bliss-bliss). Do you suppose if we sit here long enough, our folks will miss us and come after us? I bet mine will just let me sit right here. Heavenly days! What's that? Oh, Hinsch, you've done it, now. And those dishes—what shall we do? Ah! A light! A light! We'll just scrape 'em up and put them in this dish pan and set them on the table at school. We will have returned them, won't we? We won't think any farther than that at present.

Oh, my feet! (agony-agony). Just wait until I see that Blaine Webster, leaving us like that! The idea. I'll never speak to him again. You won't either, will you? No Casa Loma for me tonight! I'm going straight to bed. A car! A car! (Yell-Yell). It's Blaine! It's Blaine! (giggle-giggle). Hello Blaine! I was never so glad to see anyone in my life (blush-blush). Let's hurry up girls (another giggle). I wonder if "Whoosie" is there yet? (Hysterical giggle). Well girls, it was a pretty good game, wasn't it? I feel fine. No bed for me tonight. Casa Loma, here I come!

WHILE YOU ARE YOUNG
WE WILL HELP YOU

When you come for a dinner,
To make the repast a success,
A Sherbet or Ice with the meat course is nice,
And Ice Cream for dessert is the best.

We make it up special in unique design,
So it's applicable to the occasion,
Delightful flavors and colors combine,
And the hostess we fill with elation.

Always serve our home-made Ice Cream,
It will delight every diner,
Its taste is supreme, it's pure, it's clean,
And its texture decidedly finer.
